The boy is mine!

We lost 20 in 2 weeks!

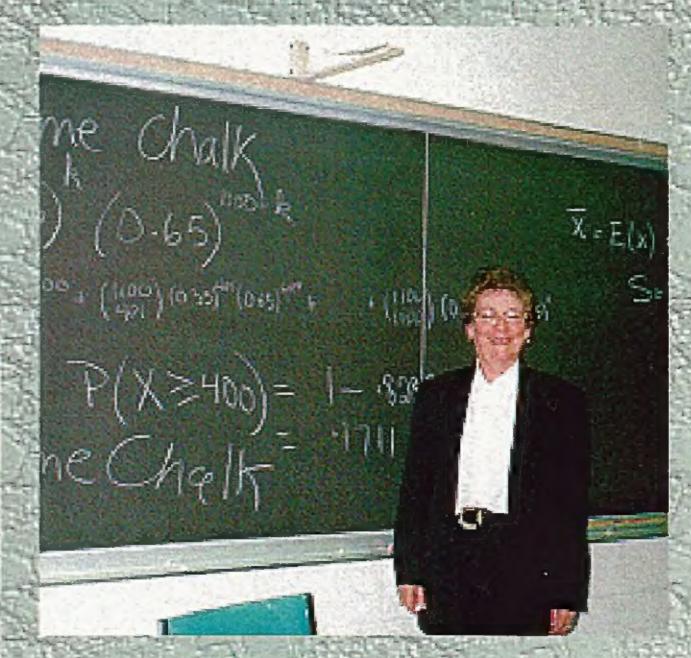

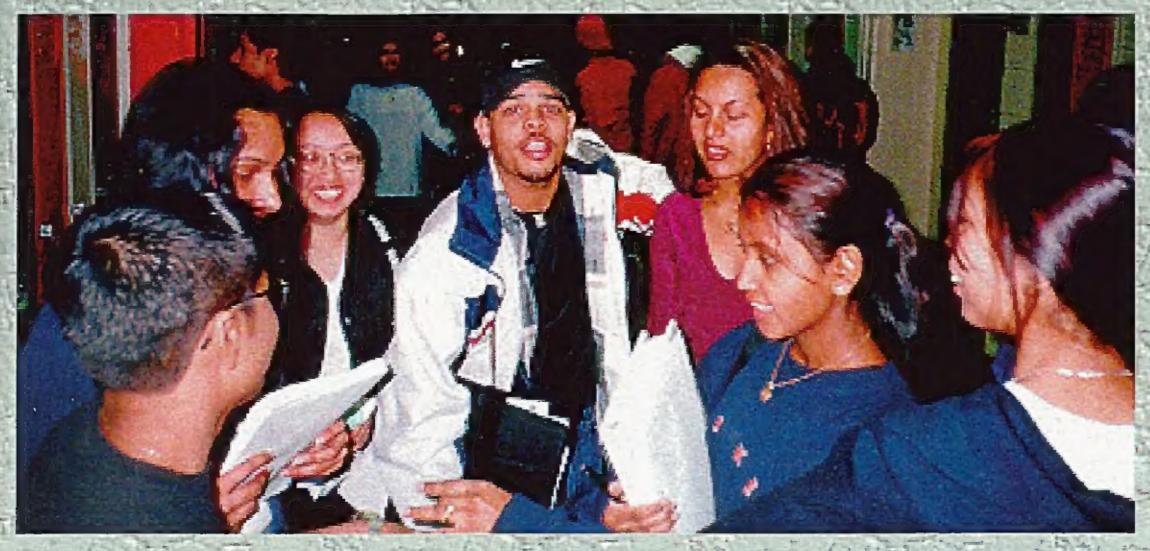

Could you please pass the salt?

Sporty, Scary and Baby...what happened to Posh?

Remember, always blame the chalk.

Can we have your autograph?

Gimme ya marks or I'll get Seelan to beat you up!

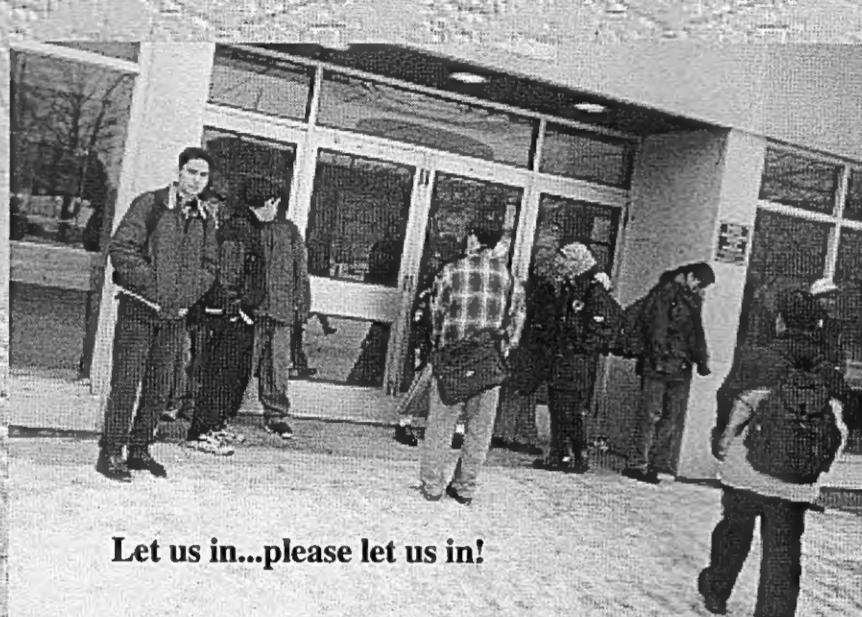

And then there were strikes

The CUPE strike lasted about two weeks, just before March Break... and then there was the TTC strike which only lasted two days...but good days they were! Homework? What homework? I forgot it on the bus!

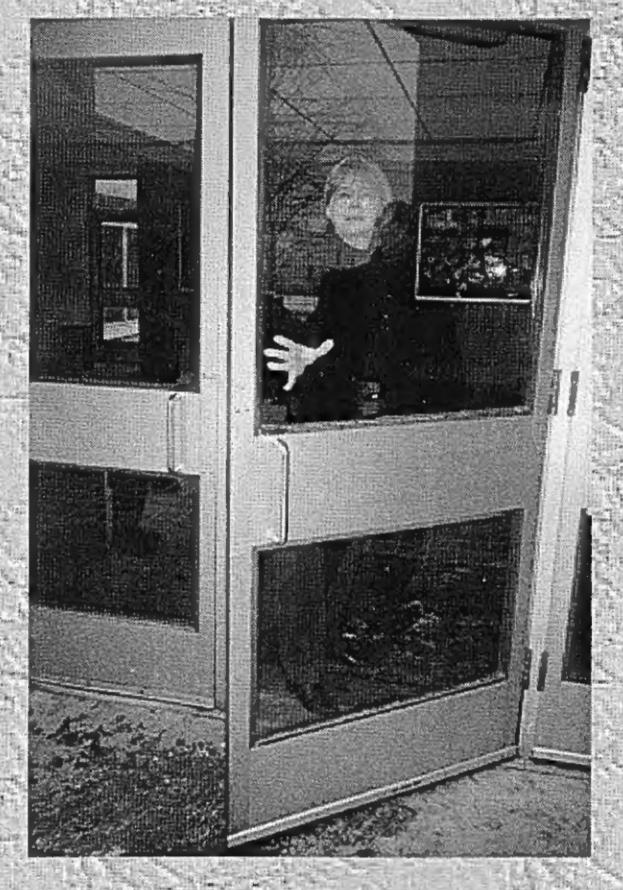

We're exercising our right to walk out...

After the strike... clean floor!

Let you in? Hah!

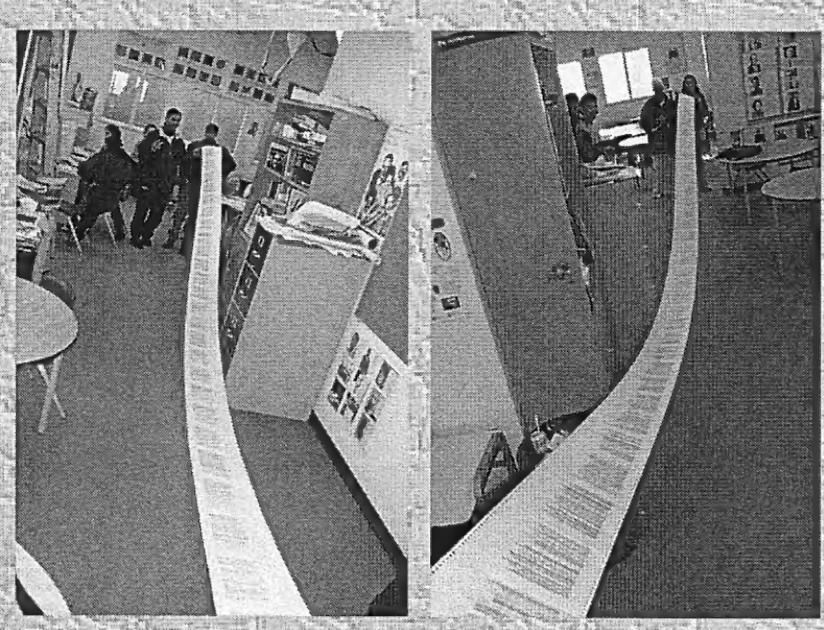

Beyond mere classes...

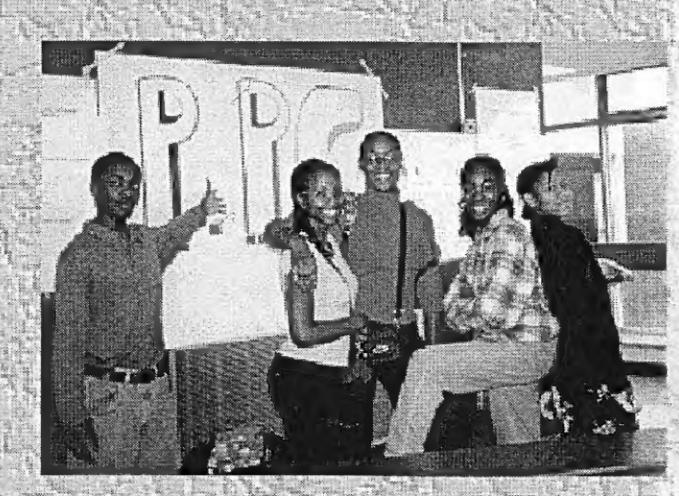

Dedicated students giving their all...and after 3:20! Bake sales at lunch, relaxing during spares...

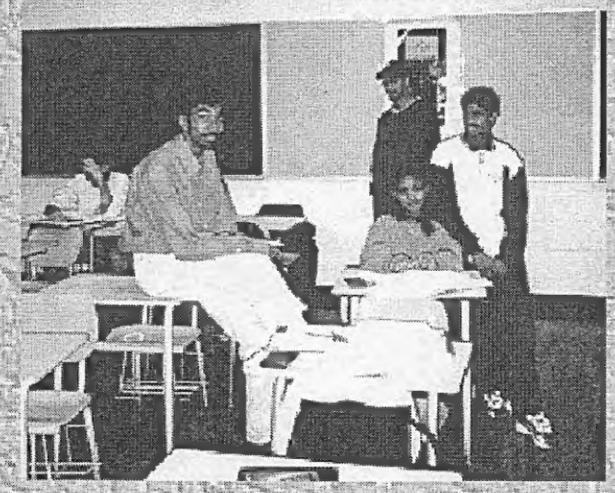

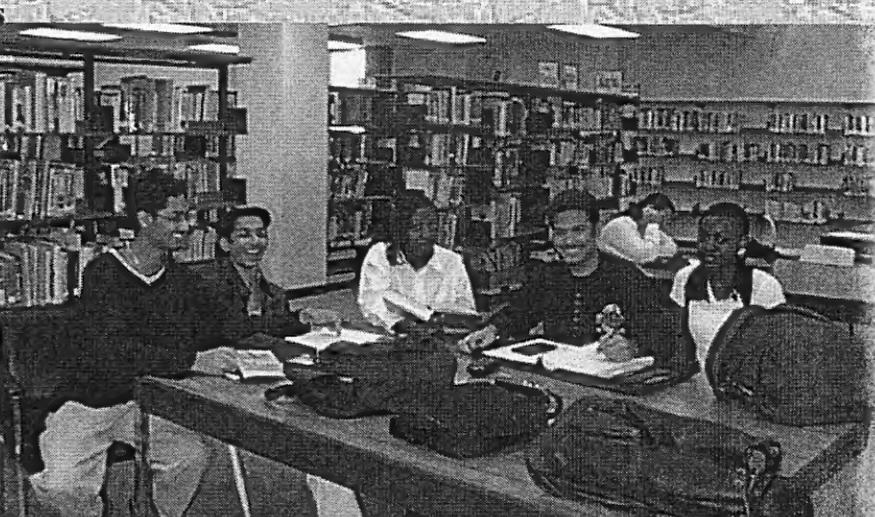

Oh man, you mean we have to put everyone's name in the yearbook? -- Layout Team

See...conflict resolution does work!

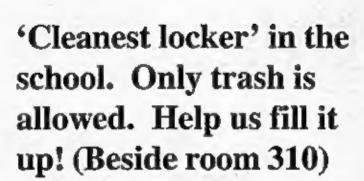

Finite freaks getting ready for 'chapter celebration'!

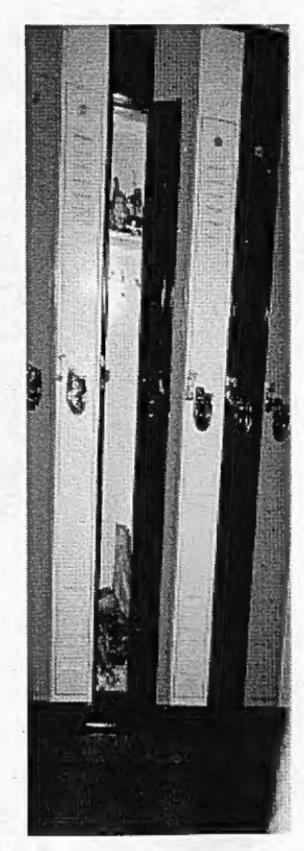

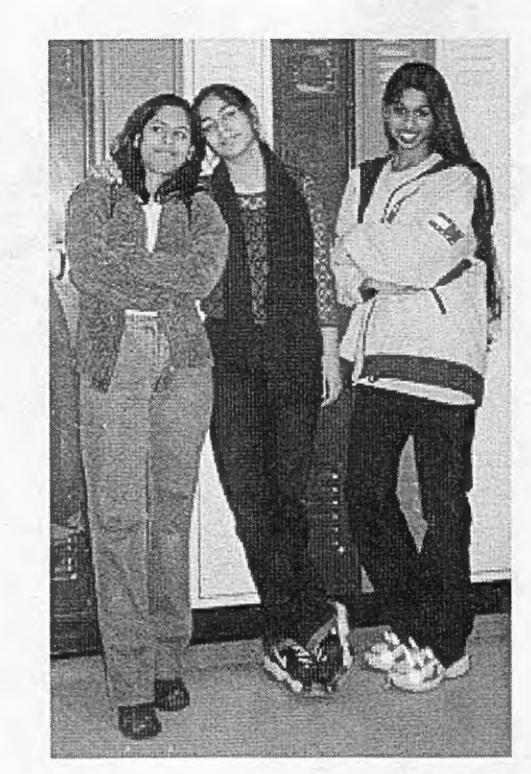

Ahhh...the wonders of a spare...or two!

Akwasi's secret strategy to passing Chemistry tests--dancing!

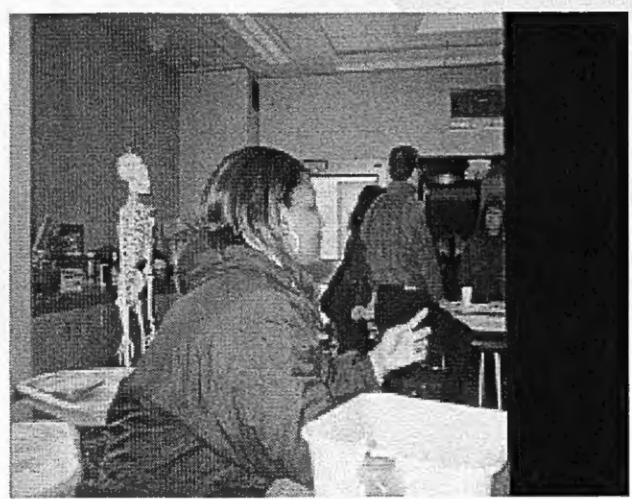

Dragging our feet on the first day of school.

No, I will not do your homework for you during either of my spares.

Don't mind me... I'm just waiting for a storm!

AMY >>PRESIDENT(

Being part of Student Council this year was a once in a lifetime opportunity and experience that I'll never forget. I've learned many things this year being the president and having the important role of representing the student body of Westview. Thanks to all my friends and teachers for their constant support and shoulders to cry on. I hope everyone has a great summer! Also GOOD LUCK to the student council next year.

DERRICH >>VICE PRESIDENT(

It was an bonour being a part of the student council. Thanks Westview for making my final year memorable. All the BEST to the next student council.

HIEN >>TREASURER(

Being a member of the student council was exhilarating. It was fun putting together school events to unite the student body. Thanks to all the staff and students who helped and supported us. Also thanks to Ms. Chiu for being a GREAT staff advisor.

HIM >>SECRETARY

What's up Westview! I hope you all had a great year. It has been a pleasure planning and organizing events for the student body. Enjoy your summer and see you next year.

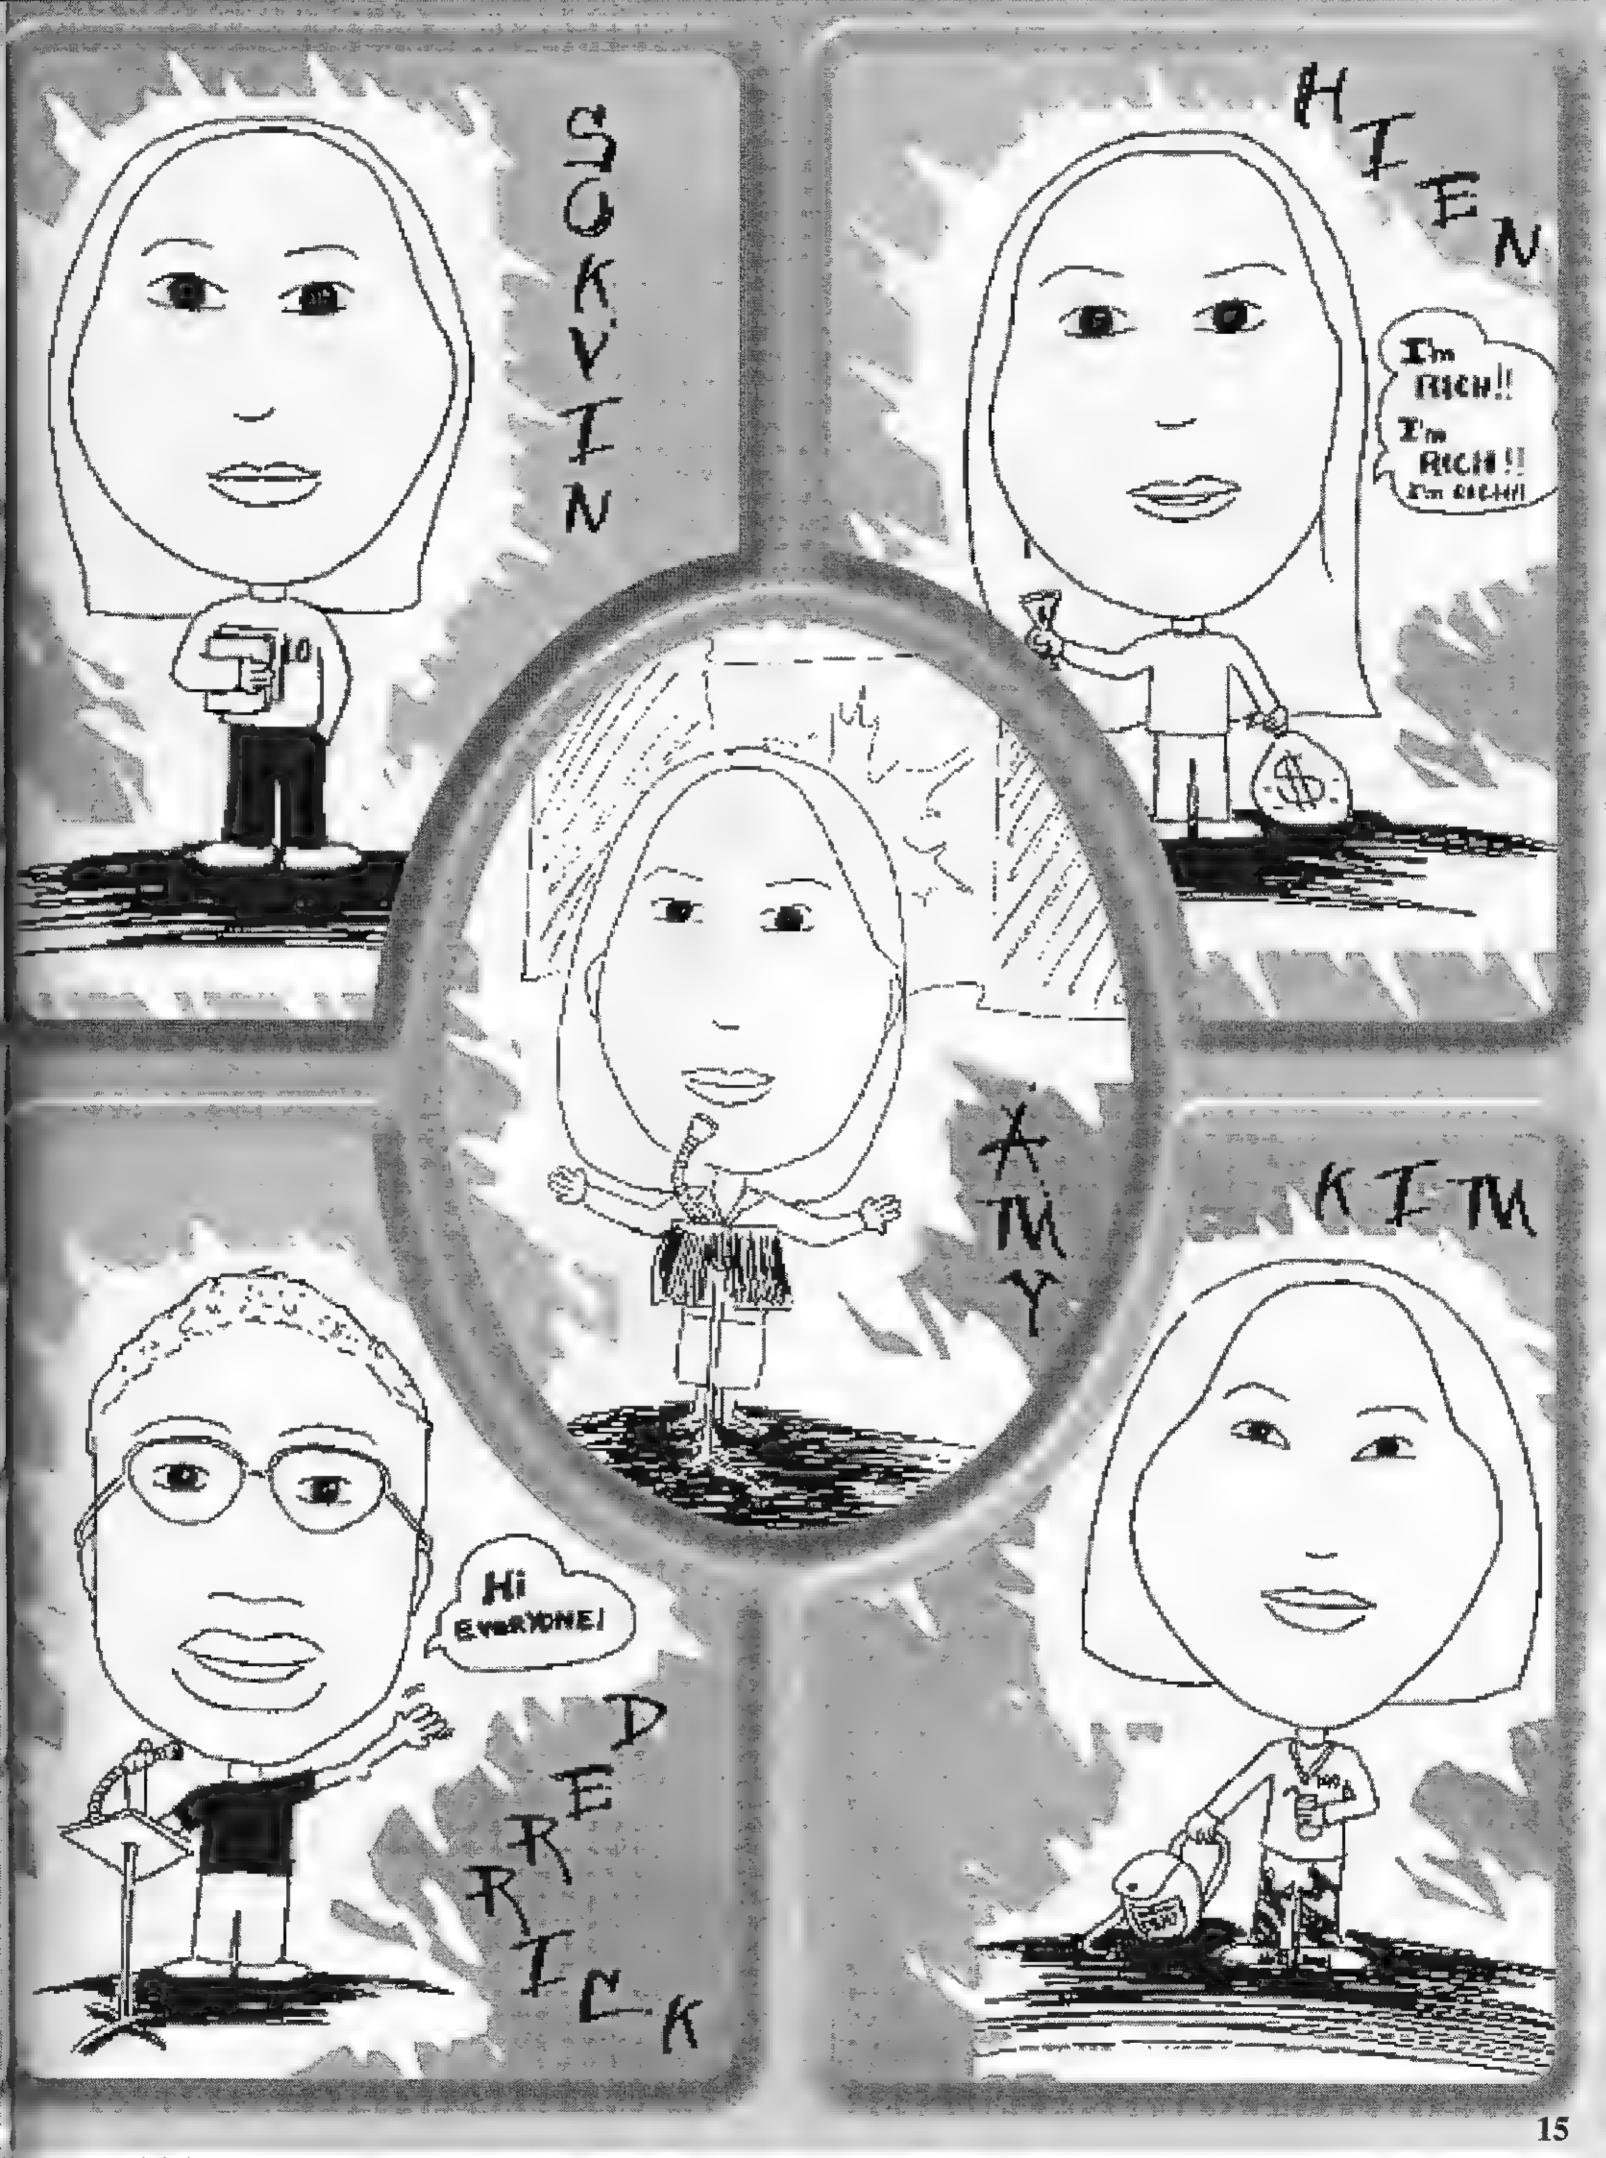

SOKVIN >>SOCIAL CONVENDR(

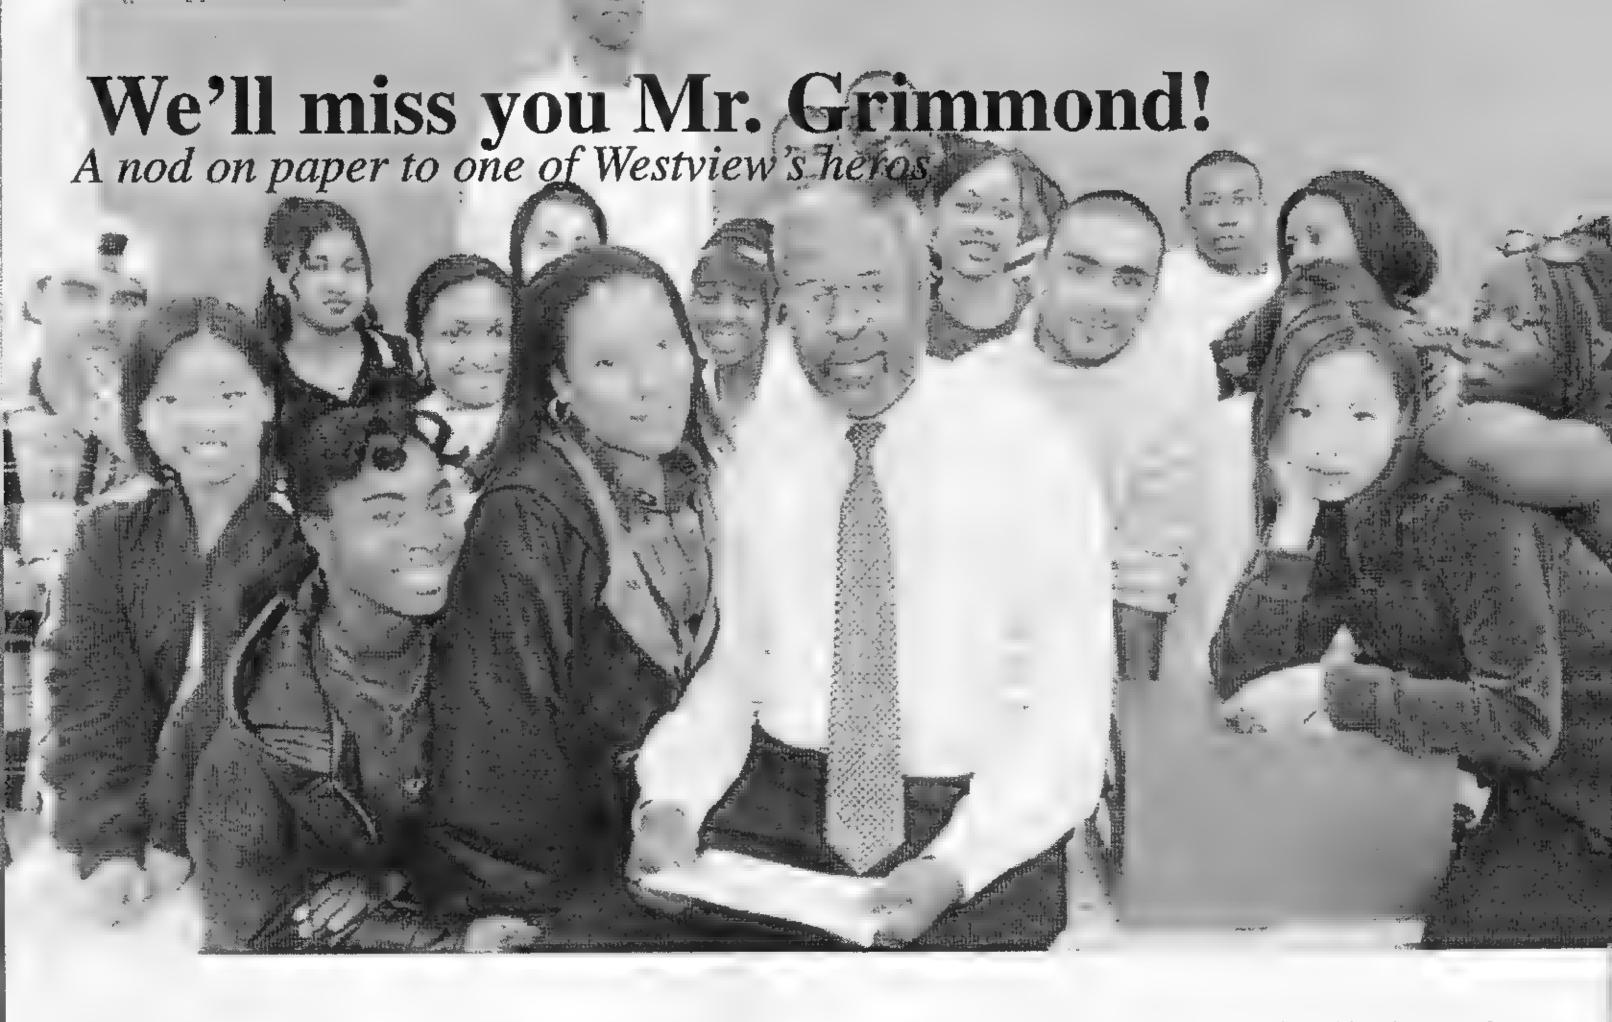

It was a very fun year working with all of you. Throughout the year, I began to understand and recognize how unique we, as the student body really are. Westview made me become aware of who I really am, and I'm proud of that accomplishment. GOOD LUCK next year!!

MISS CHILL >>STAFF ADVISORY(

It has been a great pleasure to work with a wonderful student council. Congratulations to Amy for leading us into a successful year. Special thanks to all the staff and student for their tremendous support.

Mr. Grimmond is retiring and we are all very sorry to see him go. This is not a goodbye or an emotional commemoration; this brief writing is respect to a teacher whose curriculum was caring—about yourself, your peers, your school, your community. Positive Peer Culture (PPC) was Mr. Grimmond's tool to shape us all into articulate, responsible men and women but the best way he did this was to provide his own example. If you ask around or know first hand, you realize how much Mr. Grimmond did for the students of this school—how much we are losing as we say goodbye to him. The problems students go to him with are varied and complex, private and painful; whether it is a teacher's responsibility to deal with all this is unclear. But Mr. Grimmond never debated jurisdiction. He would just say, "Tell me more," and then hear you out. Whatever connections, authority, or resources he had at his disposal were immediately available. His power to help was never just limited to a ready ear and a generous heart; the beauty of Mr. Grimmond's help, as every student knows, is that it will probably work.

Yes he will help you. No matter what you've done or how many people want to kick you out of school. When it seems that there is no one to turn to, Mr. Grimmond is always an option. He believes in second chances and will put himself on the line to grant them. He is a pioneer in the field of conflict mediation and a proponent of all the necessary importance it places on feelings, but if you need it, he will kick your ass too. He's a big guy, with a strange white streak in his hair, an imposing figure and he uses this to grab the attention of grade nines and various thug-like students. Maybe not everyone likes him. I know this to be true of a handful of those who affect a tough demeanor and reject anyone who dares suggest they could possibly learn something beyond an attitude. But without exception, everyone respects him. He commands it. Most learn to love him, because he commands that as well. When you get to know him, as it seems so many, many students do, you find a roguish sense of humor (ask him who Leroy is) and one of the warmest hearts you will ever encounter. His commitment to and depth of concern for youth is special. So many former students come by, from years past, adults now, and you can see how important he is to them still. He has helped about thirty students become teachers themselves through his mentoring and interviewing of candidates for the York University Faculty of Education. As for current students, you cannot be in his office five minutes without witnessing at least five requests for his time, his favour, his help.

What Westview will do without him I don't know. His office, so messy, but always open, will still be there, hopefully with his compatriot Ms. Smith at the helm. But his absence will be palpable, and not just in the school. He has always been very involved in our community as a member of various committees and as the Chair of the Board of Directors of the Jane-Finch Community Legal Clinic. Further testament to his strong commitment and concern for this community are the many hours he has volunteered over the years working with parents and students to resolve differences after regular school hours.

Westview Centennial and its area are both better for his deep and singular commitment. In the many years he has been at this school, he has been absolutely vital to its evolution. He has fought for it, struggled with it, labored over it. It is his legacy. And in turn, so are we. This is a nod, a nod on paper, to an admirable and good man. Thank you, Sir, for everything.

Valedictorian's Speech

Ms. Twohig, Superintendent Harriet Wagman, honored guests, staff, parents and fellow graduates, good evening.

Tonight we mark one of the first significant milestones in our 18 or so years: our successful completion of high school. We have all witnessed and experienced the hard work that has resulted in our presence here tonight and I offer congratulations to all of you. This diploma tells the world we have received an education but to us it also represents five or so memorable years of our lives. It represents battles won against part-time jobs, procrastination and other trials of youth. As we leave public education behind us forever, we take with us a lot of memories. We will remember high school, whether we like it or not, because it saw us into our adulthood—a lot of us even into some maturity. We will remember the anguish of Physics and the joy of spare. We will remember that behavior is bad not people and other PPC wisdoms. We will probably be the last generation to remember false fire alarms. And though we will most likely not remember any Calculus we will remember the friends that were here with us, the teacher that gave us a break when we needed it. We will remember tonight.

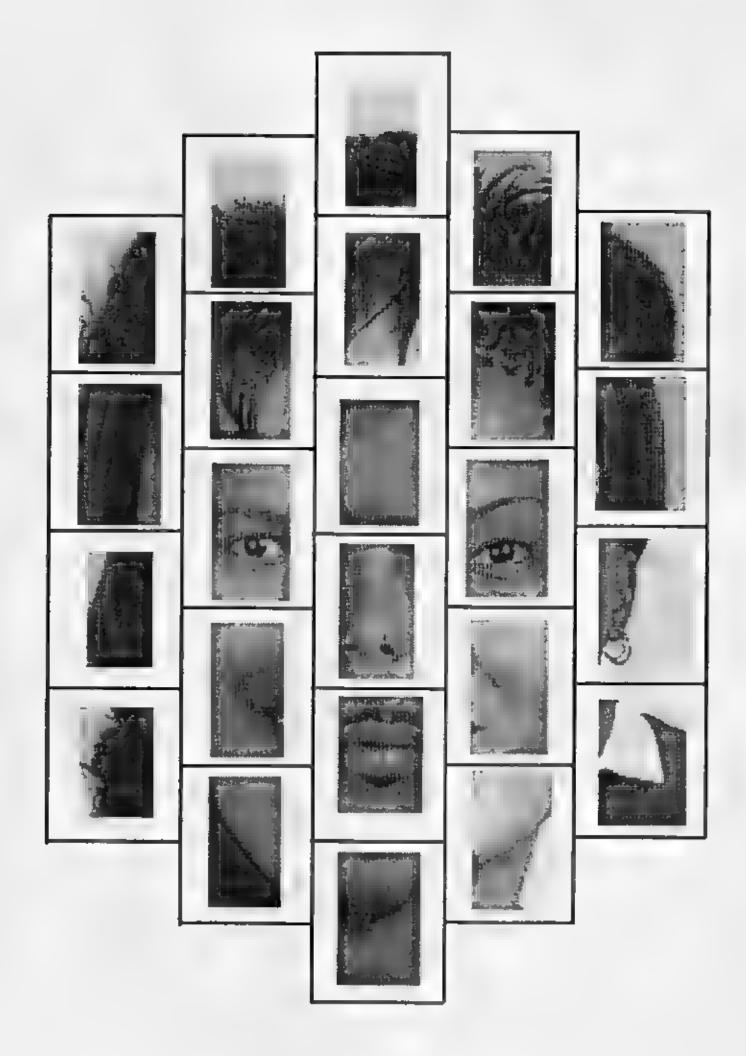

There is no other school quite like Westview, though at times we take it for granted, like a parent. Nowhere else has diversity placed its stamp quite like it has here. I can promise you that our high school years have been more interesting, more lively, more, odd, than anyone else you will meet after you leave here and we are better for it. The face of Westview is the face of the future and we are lucky to have been exposed to its one-of-a-kind culture in our youth.

There are many people who deserve our thanks, for we did not get here alone. I would like to thank my Mom for doing everything that she has for me. All our parents deserve our gratitude for their love, support and free housing. Thank you to our teachers for passing us. Thank you to the dedicated people in Guidance who helped an impressive number of this year's graduating class enter university and college smoothly. And a special thanks to those teachers and our principal who this year like us, are having a Commencement of their own as they move onto retirement after many years of contribution. And of course thank you to this year's student council for doing their best.

We have come a long way since the fall of '93 or '94 when we came from Oakdale and Brookview, some of us shy, some of us just hostile. Not everyone who started with us is here. Others have joined us along the way. But now we all take different paths and start new journeys. Some of us will not see others again; some of us will continue friendships that will last a lifetime. Whatever lies ahead I wish you all success and contentment.

My advice to you is questionable in its value since I know just about as much as the rest of you; so I won't give you any. But I hope all our paths cross again so we may take pleasure in each other's accomplishments. Enjoy your life. Thank you. Kulsoom Anwer, June 24, 1998

Beware trespassers! Westview is haunted!!

- 1. Hot Dog Vendor: where Saddam Hussein took his final revenge against the Western Infidel Dogs, by planting an exploding pickle...the few who noticed thought it was a distinct improvement.
- 2. Football Field: actual site of liaison between aliens and earthlings, first contact...they tried to leave us crop circles but the grass was dead due to excessive snow. Also the new Himalayas arose during the snow storm of 99 and several Westview students claimed to see a Yeti.
- 3. Centre for Change: Area 42...alien conspiracy? Look no further than our very own c4c.

- 7. Garbage Can: the future location of the next Starbucks, opening soon.
- 8. Bush: the real location of the bat cave, also where Trekkers gather when there is a new movie out.
- 9. Plaza across the Street: where the news that Parliament is looking into the medicinal values of marijuana was received with much enthusiasm.
- 10. Main Office: where everyone must have an announcement to make an announcement about an upcoming announcement, followed by an announcement that there was just an announcement.
- 11. Westview Library: where Mike the Knife and his crony Dave closed their eyes and randomly picked out books for their latest project—the new curriculum.
- 12. Oakdale Road: where the Westview Wildcat was run over by joyriding students who had stolen the principal's car.

My Thoughts of You

Dedicated to Dong Sau, from ViNgan Huynh

In warmest thoughts I think of you, your smile's just like the sun. Your love brings such happiness, a journey that's just begun. I don't know what I'd do without you, for you complete my soul. You fulfil my need for life, my heart is yours to hold. Savour each moment, I do, each gentle kiss or warm embrace. No one could ever fill my heart, like the warmth of your loving face. You've given to me such wonders, I never dreamed to be true. All the hidden treasures this world has to offer, I found them all in you. —

- 9. White Zombie (No one cares what colour it is)
- 10. Posh Spice (What class does salt fall into?)
- 11. The Goo Goo Dolls (How does one make dolls out of goo?)
- 12. The Gap (We're not going near that one)
- 13. C'est What (Exactly)
- 14. It Store (What is "It" anyway?)
- 15. Student Bodies (Not with a ten foot pole)
- 16. Snuffleophugus (Cruel parents make mean jokes)
- 17. That 70's Show (They just couldn't come up with a name)
- 18. The X-Files (Undetermined number, or graphic pornography?)
- 19. Two of a Kind (Like we wouldn't have been able to tell)
- 20. Sister Sister (The writer had a stuttering problem)
- 21. Monica Lewinsky (It's not the name that's clueless)
- 22. Buffy (We don't know where to start)
- 23. Toto (Another stutter)
- 24. Screech (It's not his fault, people saw him and screeched)
- 25. Westview (Not much to see there)
- 26. Park Bench (We couldn't come up with a name, either)

One Last Time...

It's funny how five years have passed so quickly. And now it's down to this, the last day, last minutes of school. Strangely, instead of being anxious to leave, I find myself reminiscing about my time here at Westview.

As I slowly and cautiously stroll down the long, narrow hallway, I can vaguely feel the history emanating from the stone walls. I can see the countless faces which once inhabited these very halls. I am running my fingers across the lockers where many futile conversations gave life to so many rumours. The lockers seem as lifeless and empty as the halls do now. I can hear the faint echoes of laughter and good times in my mind. Times which were brushed away by the hands of time. I pass the north gym, an area that housed our Wildcats. I pop my head in to take a look. I see the bleachers pulled out. There is a crowd gathered, chanting in unison, cheering our team to victory. But I blink, and when I open my eyes, the gym is empty, the bleachers are vacant, and the reality begins to sink in again.

Now I find myself in room 217. I sit at one of the tables where I and many others spent lunches and spares cramming for whatever test we had that day. I leave the room and walk down the stairs, recalling the vast number of times when I had to run up these same stairs at 9:15, late for class.

I finally reach the front foyer. I step outside reluctantly and turn around for one last look at the school. I will grow to miss it. Farewell to the friends I have made in these last, swift years. Farewell to all the teachers who have given me guidance and taught me the lessons that I now carry with me into the world. Farewell to some of the more memorable good times. I take one last breath, then turn and walk away, from the building, from the memories, from some of the best days of my life.

The Storm
By Keita Strachan

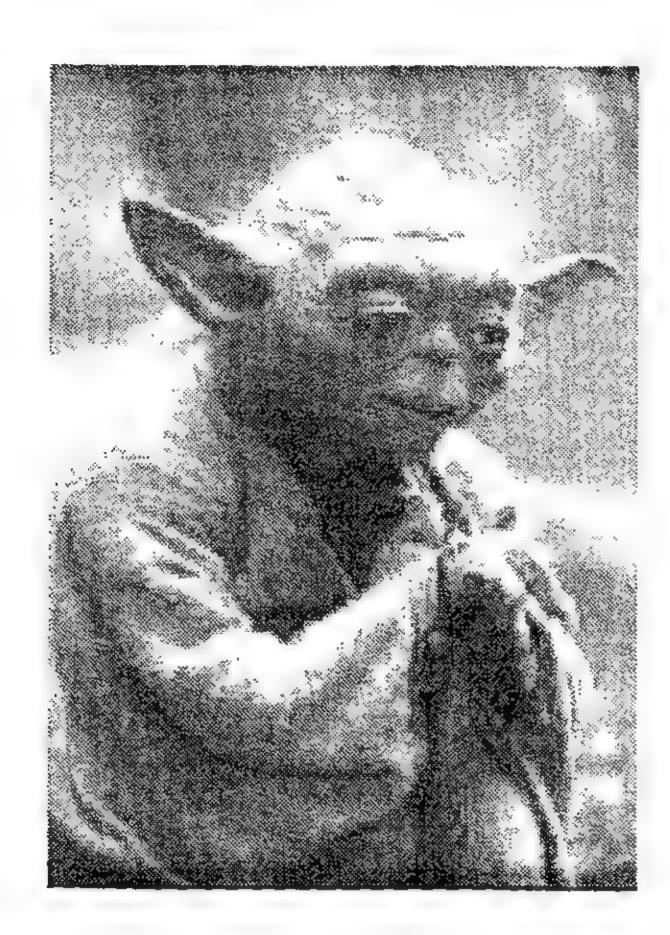

Nature's tears, the pounding rain,
Cruelly mimic my resounding pain
Opaque clouds conceal her soul,
But mine is open, a bottomless hole
That never heals, can never be cured,
Love dies inside, so rest assured
I shall no longer flood the land
With endless droplets wiped by hand.

Wait! Suddenly the horizon brightens,
Hope and fear in my heart heightens.
The myth of the clouds with the silver lining
Breaks the spell that was once confining,
For now I feel my spirits rise
As nature herself answers my cries.
No longer shall I mope and mourn,
For he has mended my heart that was torn.

The Best
By Karen Campos

To be the best means
To take high risks and challenges
To go where nobody can go
To make mistakes and say I'm sorry
To believe in yourself, knowing that you can do it
To be responsible and honest
To dream and make it happen
To be the best means dedication and courage
It means anybody can be one.

West Side (Cheesy) School Jokes

1. Teacher: Why are you late? Junior: Because of the sign.

Teacher: What sign?

Junior: The one that says, "School Ahead, Go

Slow." That's what I did.

2. Teacher: Junior, go to the map and find North America.

Junior: Here it is!

Teacher: Correct. Now class, who discovered

America? Class: Junior!

3. Mother: Why on earth did you swallow the money I gave you?

Junior: You said it was my lunch money.

4. Teacher: Didn't you promise to behave?

Junior: Yes, sir.

Teacher: And didn't I promise to punish you if you didn't?

Junior: Yes, sir, but since I broke my promise, you didn't have to keep yours.

5. Junior: Teacher, would you punish me for something I didn't do?

Teacher: Of course not.

Junior: Good, because I didn't do my homework.

Collected and presented to you by Gowseelan (Junior) Kanagaratnam.

Watch out girls... I'm comin' in my Acura Integra to through at you more jokes...

6. Teacher: I hope I didn't see you looking at Don's paper while you were writing the test.

Don: I hope you didn't either.

7. Junior: I don't think I deserve a zero on this test. Teacher: I agree, but it's the lowest mark I can give you.

8. Mother: Why did you get such a low mark on that test? Junior: Because of absence.

Mother: You mean you were absent on the day of the test?

Junior: No, but the kid who sit next to me was.

9. Junior: Dad, can you write in the dark?

Father: I think so. What do you want me to write?

Junior: Your name on this report card.

10. Teacher: If you had $1 and you asked dad for another, how much would you have?

Junior: One dollar.

Teacher (sadly): You don't know your arithmetic.

Junior (sadly): You don't know my dad.

CIUS

Westview's Debating Society

The difficult part in an argument is not to defend one's opinion, but rather to know it.

André Maurois (1885–1967), French author, critic.

This argumentative bunch gets together to debate a wide arrange of topics, such as, "Donald Duck should wear pants", "Homosexuals should be given the right to adopt children" and "Students should be paid to attend school."

Joining this club is a great way to sharpen your reasoning, logic, and public speaking skills.

Drama Club

Acting is not about dressing up.
Acting is about stripping bare. The whole essence of learning lines is to forget them so you can make them sound like you thought of them that instant.

Glenda Jackson (b. 1937), British actor, Labour politician.

Throughout all rehearsals, the Drama Club faced several obstacles that challenged their talents. It came to the point where this year's Sears Festival Place might have been cancelled, but in the last two weeks, the Drama Club pulled everything together for an amazing production.

Great job guys!

A verbal art like poetry is reflective; it stops to think. Music is immediate, it goes on to become.

W. H. Auden (1907-73),

Anglo-American poet.

This club does the morning execercises, announcements and the morning and lunchtime music.

Students will remember Radio Westview for the forever technical dificulties, mis-pronunciation of words and their mishaps.

Nonetheless, good job guys!

By Princess Savvy Loeuy, senior astrologer for Savvy Predictions Inc.

In ten years, where will you be? The year-book committee asked this question in the grad comments, and received varying responses. Now, one of Westview's best astrologers (yes...we do have more than one) will attempt to predict how the next ten years of your life will turn out.

(For entertainment purposes only. Must be over 16.)

Aries: You will inherit a fortune after your mother's brother's uncle's sister's great-grand aunt dies of a major tumor in her left knee. At your 10th high school reunion, you will wear your best pair of horns.

Taurus: You will marry rich and live on your own private island with fourteen dogs, two cats, one salamander and a big albino gorilla. Your kids will go to Westview and have Mr. Halls as their English teacher.

Gemini: You will encounter your identical twin in a town far away from Toronto, like Temagami, where they will send a letter saying that they know what you did last summer and continuously stalk you 'til you eventually move back to Westview—and beg Mr. Neil to take you into his OAC Physics class.

OAC text books: at one point or another we carried these books on our backs, shoulders...dragged them along behind us...threw them in our lockers...and complained and complained about how heavy they were...and then finally, gratefully, we gave them up at the end of the semester, after scribbling our names in every possible corner of every page.

Cancer: You will spend your days on the beaches of Lake Ontario and meet your future crab mate. You both will bake in the sun and eventually end up at Red Lobster as a main course.

Leo: This will be your time to roar as you will open a new business in hardware appliances or you will find yourself continually repeating the phrase "Would you like fries with that?".

Virgo: Virgos beware of high tides that will spoil your success. You will financially decline until you reach the age of 35, when you will finally gain that person's love, and you will live happily ever after.

Libra: You will spend the next ten years doing community service and continue to work at Westview as an executive assistant to Mr. Mayeda, our next principal. After that, with your diploma in paper folding, you will live happily ever after in your own paper mache world.

Scorpio: You will fascinate the crowd, as you entertain your way to success. You will star in up coming roles along side the Telletubies and characters from such children shows as Sesame Street and Mr. Dressup.

Sagitarius: You will become a big time pie eater at the county fair and will travel with the Freak Show. But you will soon tire of your short-lived fame and you will then pursue a career in Hair Remover products, and meet great success—you will become a millionaire.

Capricorn: Prosperity will greet you as you fall down that flight of stairs. You will find that person you've been looking for and live happily together until you fall down on another flight of stairs.

Aquarius: You will be captivated by a treasure map, that will lead you to far away places. Your long search (10 years) will finally end when you discover that the "map" was a really a prank pulled by your friends to fool you. Thinking you've wasted of your life, you spend the rest of it trying to come up with a better prank.

Pisces: You will go to you university to get your degree in Molecular Biology, end up meeting the person of your dreams who ends up being 6'6" and will be too tall for you. You will spend the rest or your life drinking 'get tall quick' remedies.

We would like to thank the following members of the yearbook committee for all their help:
Akwasi Asamoah, Sarah Anwer, Grace Cox, Rina Lad, Debbi-Ann Lindo, Jasen Patel, Niza Santhinathan, Hong Sau, Nalini Shewprasad.

The following people deserve our deepest gratitude for the wonderful things they did for this yearbook: Ms Chiu and Kulsoom Anwer for advice, Mrs. Iaboni for our finances, Mrs. Shewprasad for our film development, Mr. Shewprasad for transportation to the printers and back, Mr. Pugh and other staff who let us use computers in the library, Student Council for their support, and Mr. Kilpatrick for sitting outside in the cold while we took his picture on a park bench.

The Evolution of the Editor

The Happy Enthusiastic Novice

Yearbooks are the wonderful devices that every graduate takes with them to remember their high school trials and tribulations. Our memories over the past five years are all represented in this yearbook and years from now when you are sitting on that park bench reflecting on your life, you will think of Westview and remember wonderful memories.

We are hoping to re-introduce the Westview tradition of 'Park Bench' with this yearbook and we hope you enjoy this volume. It is your yearbook, the one your children will look at to see Mommy when she was a teenager, or the one that your grandchildren will look in and smile at Grandpa when he still had teeth and hair.

This edition of Park Bench will be the best ever, because we have the most committed staff and the best computers right here at Westview!

The "Yes" Person

Of course we can have Mr.
Kilpatrick sit outside in the cold with no jacket on while we take pictures of him looking like Forrest Gump. Do you have the box of chocolates? No it's okay, I'll get it.

Everyone is going to get their idea in the yearbook, because the yearbook belongs to all of us.

Sure, you can go on the roof to take pictures.

Swearing? You want to swear in the yearbook? Okay with me...just let me check with the administration on that one...

Sharmila Shewprasa - the inner child.

The Disillusioned Inner Child

What do you mean there's no money in the school for yearbook? I thought we were important.

The Difficult Slave-Driver

We will finish this yearbook over March Break if it kills us...I don't care if your family is going to Florida.

The Desperate Sobbing Beggar

Please buy a yearbook... pleeeeease. We only need to sell two hundred copies. It's your yearbook--your grandchildren will look at it.

And if you come to a yearbook meeting, I'll bring chocolate chip cookies! Please come to our meetings...pleeeeeeease.

The Prolific Writer

What do you mean we have no writing? I thought we had writers! Oh well, no time to get anyone else. Quick had me that pen! Wait, no time for paragraphs. I'll just make another top ten list-can't have too many of those. Let's see...I know...

The Nine (Yearbook) Commandments

- 9. Buy a Yearbook
- 8. The Editor is always right
- 7. You shall become one with the teletubbies
- 6. Resistance is futile
- 5. Every perceived mistake in this yearbook leads ultimately to the meaning of lif
- 4. Buy another yearbook, and this time buy a park bench to sit on while reading it
- 3. Yes, you do want fries with that
- 2. Elelator go down the holeeeee
- 1. Remember.

The Angry Authority

I don't care if you didn't get a copy, they were only on sale for two months! And your grad survey didn't make it in? Well, maybe you should have handed it in before we went to print!

The Shrunken Hollow Shell

Don't mention that word. I used to be a person, but then I made a horrible horrible decision. 'Editor'

I worked harder and harder, but everything that could possible fell apart came tumbling on me, and then some more stuff fell. And buried under all this weight and wandering lost in a giant maze filled with cataclysmic holes, I heard the word 'yearbook'...

A Historical Look at Westview...

What ever happened to all those clubs...

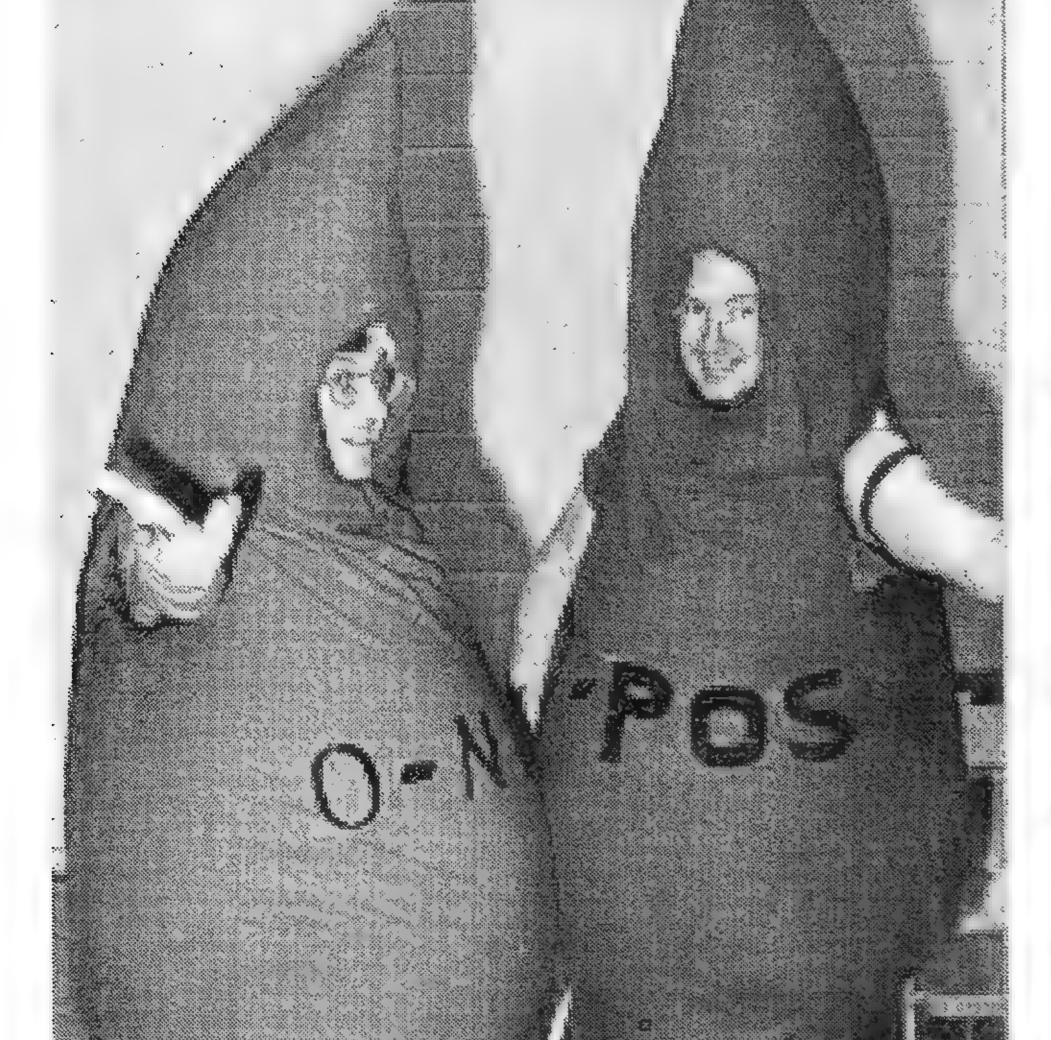

The Astronomy club started in the fall of 1969. The club has built a 6" telescope for the school, given a series of lectures and has written a book available to all."

"The Language Club includes 3 languages (French, Italian, and Spanish) taught at Westview. The members organize such events as the Language Show, Opera outings, the French Theatre, Italian movies, a trip to the Zoo and the Valentine's Dance."

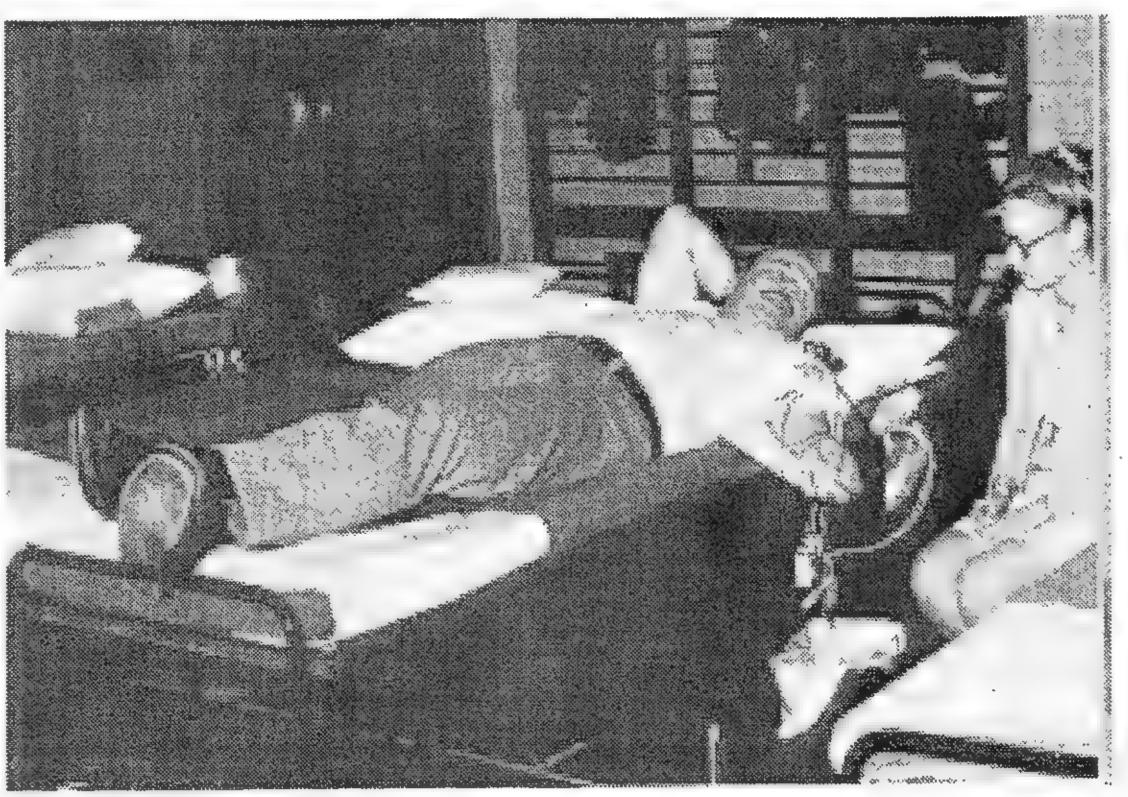

"The CINE club shows film to the student body free of charge on Wednesdays"

Westview's Cheerleaders placed 2nd in Ontario Competition at NewMarket, 1st in North York School Competition (80-81)

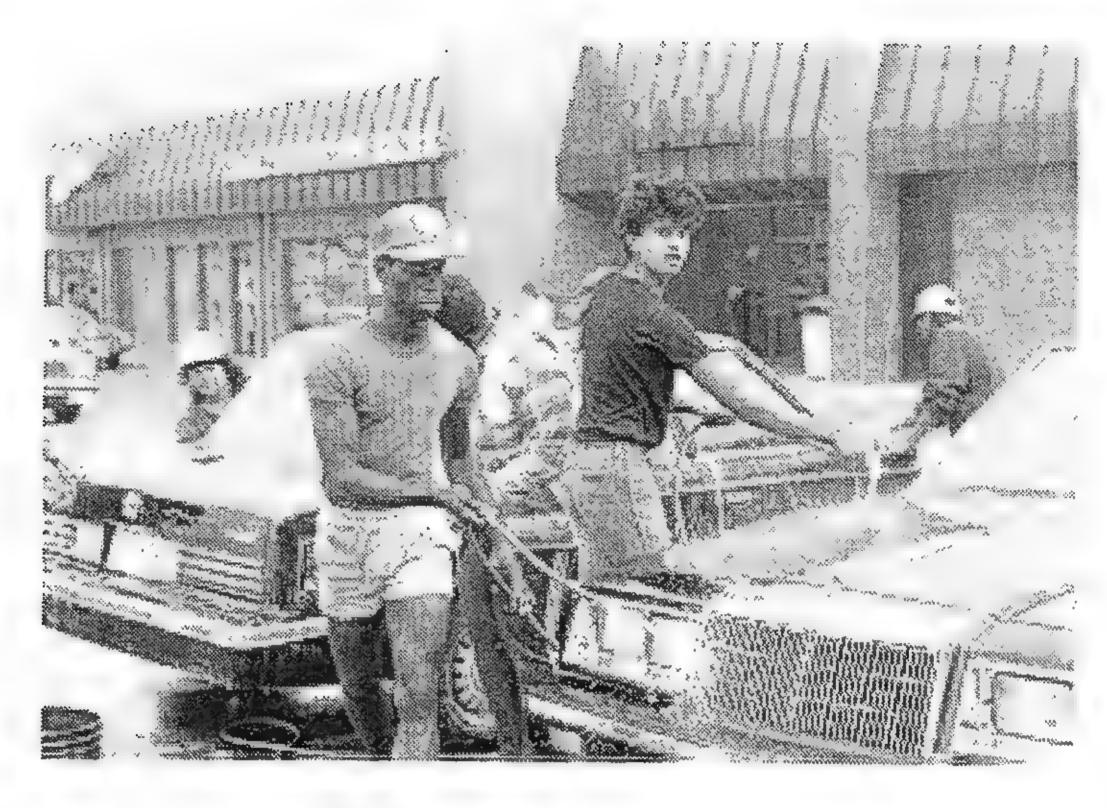

Westview hosted the first annual Westview Blood Donor Clinic. (1971)

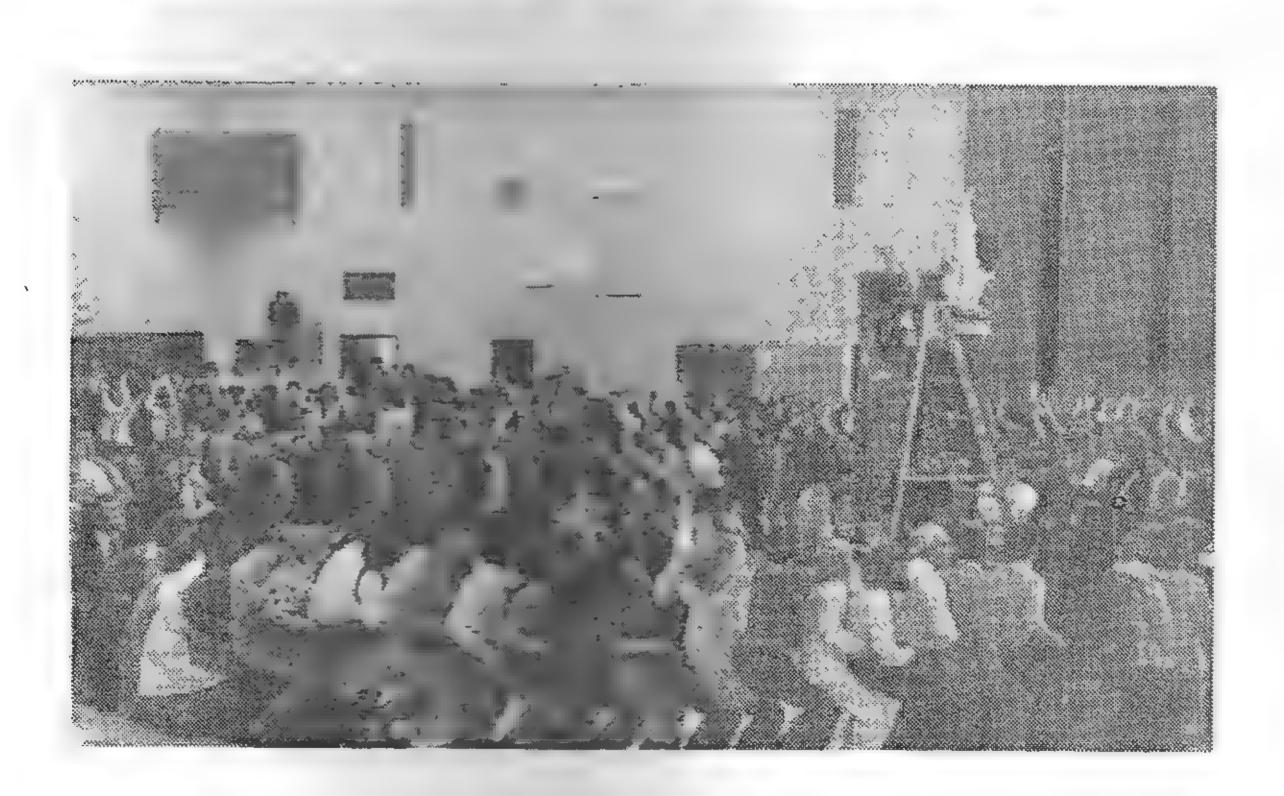

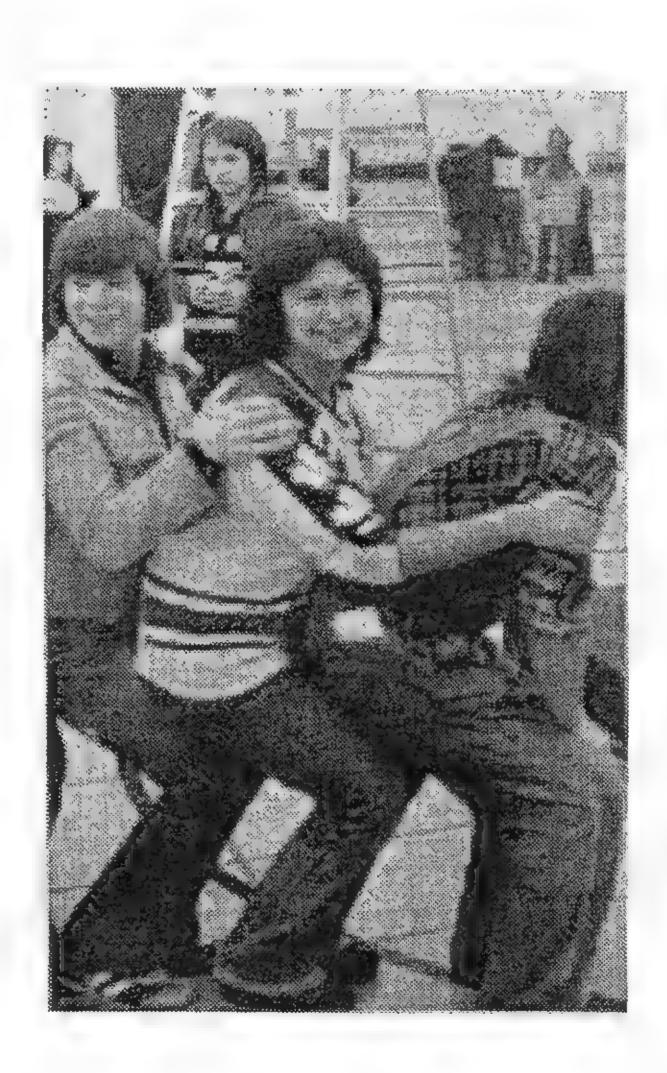

"Westview's T-shirt shop is owned and operated by the Music department. Music students usually spend their free time working in the shop. The store provides great bargains for every member of the family, including the little toddlers. The store has a wide range of rock T-shirts; from Styz to AC/DC and Led Zepplin." (82/83)

On Wednesday, March 5, 1975, Westview broke the Canadian record of a self-supporting circle with 749 people!

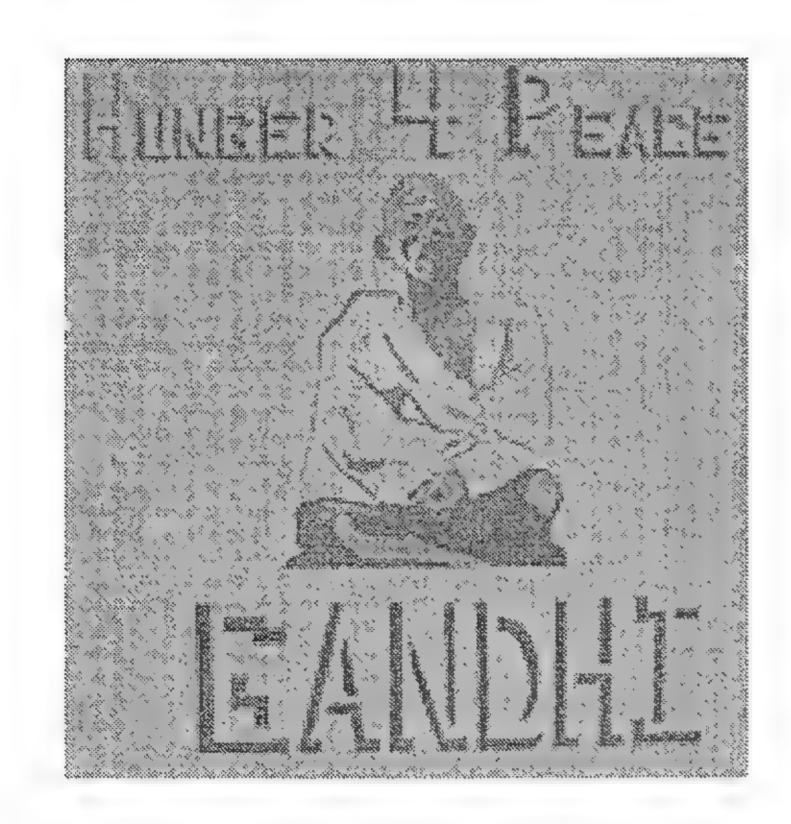

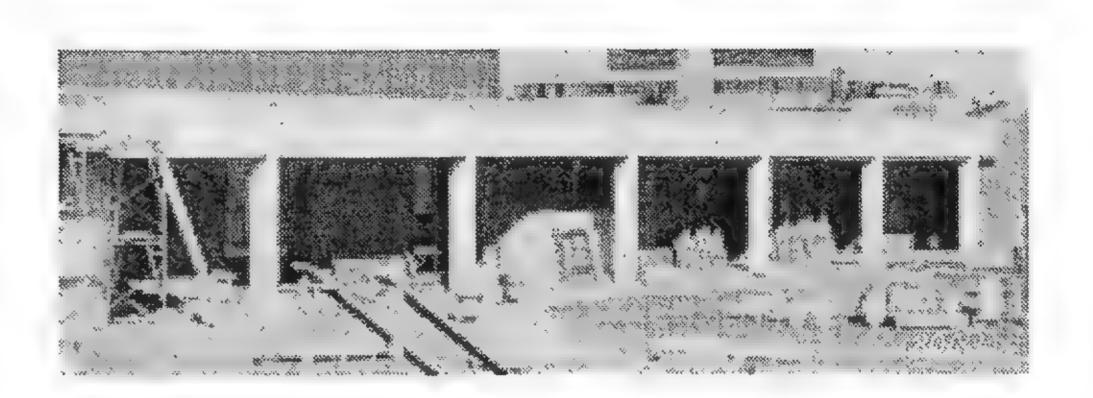

A new look for Westview! A new building consisting of five shops were constructed on the existing Westview location in 1980/1981. The shops built were: auto mechanics, auto servicing, wood shop, small engines and appliances repair. The new shops replaced portable shops in the east end of the school.

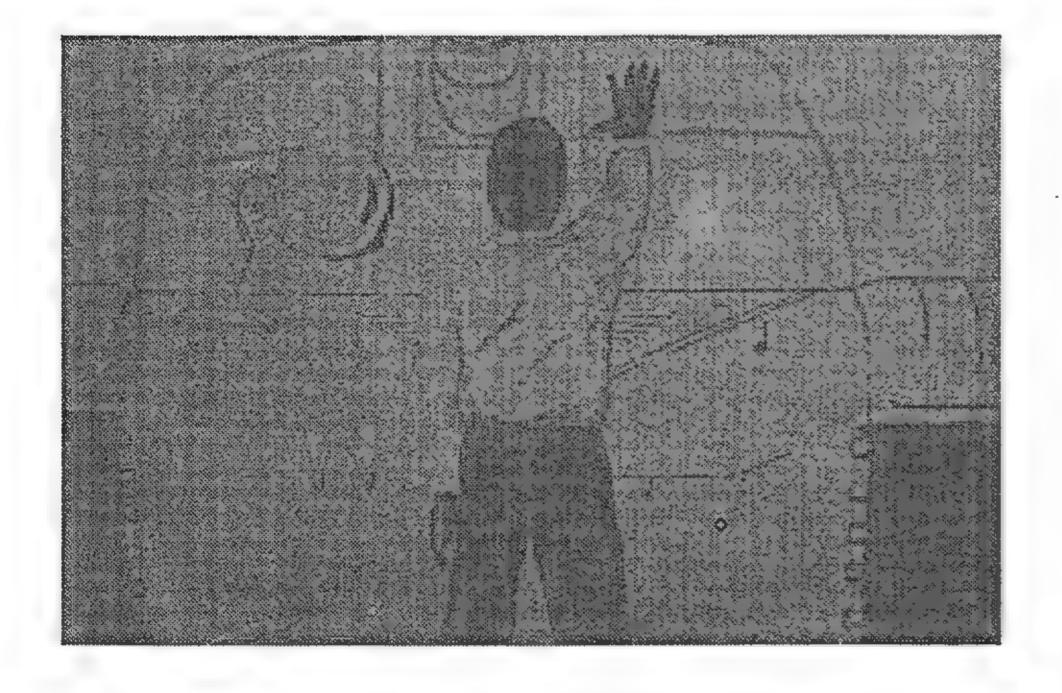

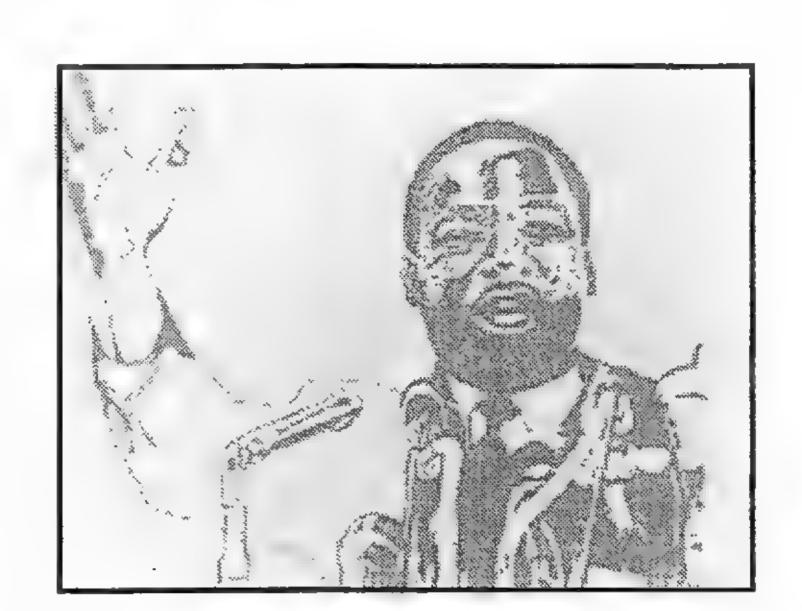

Remember those murals? Nelson Mandela, Mahatma Ghandi, Malcom X, Tianamen Square, Martin Luther King Jr., and 'X-Men'. They were painted by the senior students of Ms. Goodman's Comicbook Illustration and Cartooning course in 1992/1993. The students of her class formed small groups and chose socially relevant issues and positive role models to be depicted on the walls of Westview. The murals were up until this year.

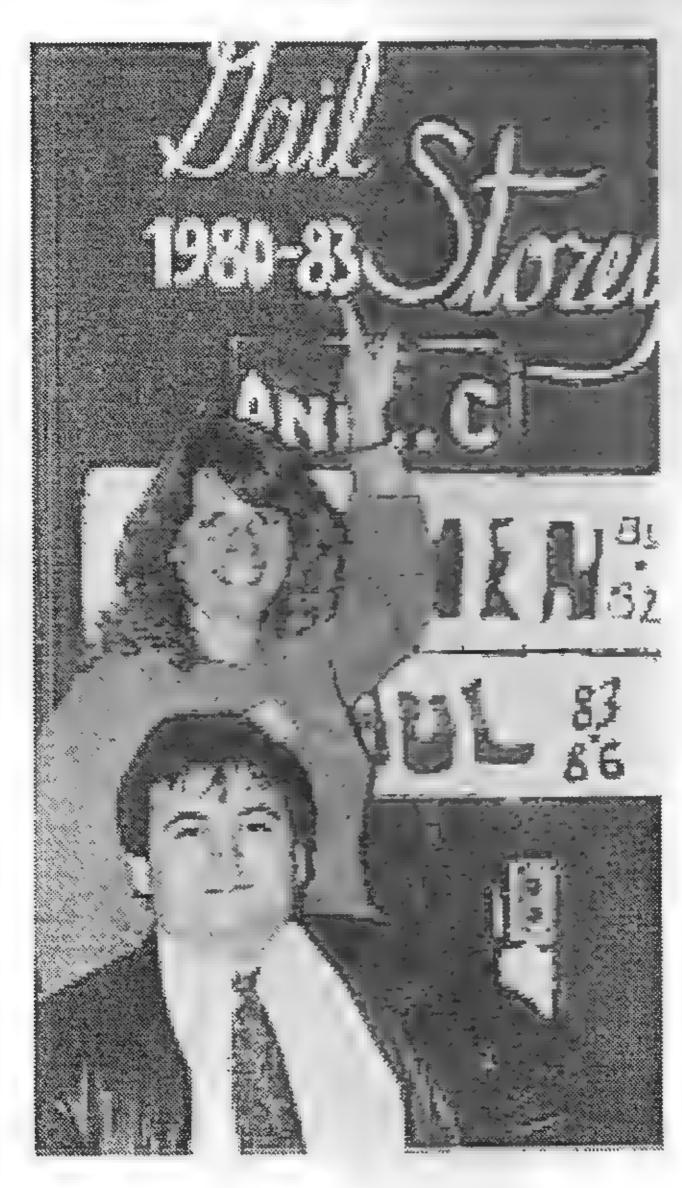

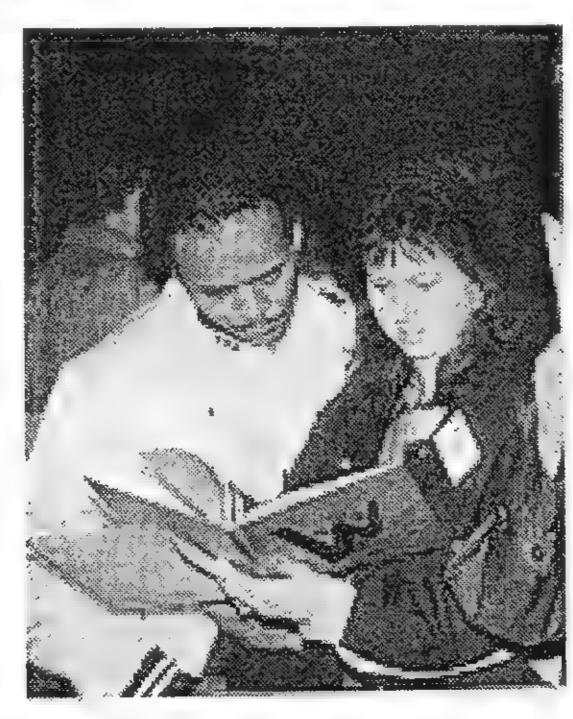

"Voyageurs' 92 was a student travel and exchange programme running from late September to November; it enabled about 25, 000 young Canadians to visit different regions of Canada. The students of W.C.S.S. fortunately were a part of this opportunity to learn more about Canada and other Canadians.

The programme was supported and financed by the Federal Government, Community volunteers, the private business sector, the North York Board of Education and the Society for Educational Visits and Exchanges in Canada." Parkbench 92/93

"On November 7th (92) over 1, 600 former students and staff helped Westview celebrate its twenty-fifth birthday... Some former students came from as far away as Vancouver and California to help celebrate the event... Students from the early years remembered the days when Westview housed 600 students and 47 staff, when Jane and Finch were two lane roads and when farms bordered the school on the north and west. Graduates from the mid-seventies recalled when Westview had over 2, 500 students, 155 staff and 26 portable classrooms. Musicians recalled the Westview Band trips to England and the Maritimes. Former athletes were impressed by the displays of team memorabilia and trophies and were gratified to learn that our current athletes carry on the proud Westview traditions..." Parkbench 92/93
